York Pedestal

The handsome York Pedestal is inspired by a baroque stand for garden statuary in an early 18th-century book of English and French garden designs held in Colonial Williamsburg's collections. When the original design was engraved, such pedestals might have shown off a piece of sculpture brought home from the Grand Tour or a prized piece of Chinese porcelain. Today Global Views can supply the gorgeous vase or sculpture, offering the look of treasures from afar – without the travel fatigue.

Weathervane Collection

Scroll weathervanes are descended from banner or pennant vanes that, in turn, descended from the cloth banners that knights and noblemen once hoisted over their castles and keeps. Thus, the general form has an ancient lineage. They retained their popularity through the 18th and late 19th century. Our Weathervane Collection showcases a pleasing pattern and creates a vibrant sense of movement, taking inspiration from early 18th century vane ironwork in Williamsburg, Virginia.

Lescot Collection

Giving a nod to the French architect, Pierre Lescot, our Lescot collection is an exquisite modern interpretation of his design aesthetic. The beautiful mansard style top, on the Lescot Bar and Etagere, extends down to four slim, tapered legs that create the framework of the piece. A rich bronze finish gives the air of opulence while glass shelves keep the look clean and light.

Neo-Classic Collection

An antique reproduction, reimagined in a modern way, our Neo-Classic collection is absolutely lovely. Quintessential Neoclassical lines have been given a look that is very now. To create this fantastic finish, linen is wrapped around a wood frame, then coated with a spray of nickel paint. The paint plus the rich texture of the linen creates a stunning effect. Complete with nickel details; sabot feet, molding, and drawer pulls.

Wiggle Chair

The most talked about chair in any room, our original Wiggle Chair, which debuted in our signature multi-colored raindrop patterned linen with raised velvet drops, has been joined by two new friends dressed in sophisticated solid micro velvet--a rich merlot and timeless pearl. Merlot has a same fabric solid welt and cording, while Pearl has a light gray welt and cording to accentuate the shapely arms. Their carved legs benefit from the same lovely washed wood finish.

Conversation Rondel

Destined to be "the in" spot in any décor, the Conversation Rondel is a style standout. Lending its' playful presence to foyers, open interiors, and private nooks, the Conversation Rondel offers an engaging alternative to extra seating. We believe this classically upholstered stunner will become the most sought after spot in your home. Purchase just a corner or the entire set to make just the right statement for your interiors.
